NTR ANNOUNCES FURTHER RECYCLING ACQUISITION IN NORTH AMERICA

At its AGM in Dublin today (Thursday, 6th September), NTR plc announced the acquisition by its North American recycling business, Greenstar North America (“GSNA”) of Todd Heller, Inc (“THI”), an integrated recycle processing and upgrading company based in Allentown, Pennsylvania. GSNA is the recently established North American Recycling Led Waste Management division of NTR, headquartered in Houston, Texas.

“We are very enthusiastic about the market opportunity for THI and Greenstar North America. THI’s recent investment in new generation recycling technology will complement our existing operations in the Pennsylvania market and THI’s material upgrading capabilities will help us to open up innovative new markets for recycled materials,” said Steve Ragiel, Chief Executive Officer of GSNA

Tom Roche, Chairman of NTR plc said: “As reported in our Annual Report for 2007, we have seen significant progress in the continuing evolution of NTR as a leading international developer and operator in renewable energy and sustainable waste management. Today’s announcement further confirms our commitment to the sector and we believe will enhance Greenstar North America’s objective of taking a leadership position in the US recycling industry.”
